INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT JOINT STOCK COMPANY REPORT

The asset manager of the sub-fund CBL Optimal Opportunities Fund - EUR of the investment fund CBL Opportunities Funds (hereinafter - the Fund) is CBL Asset Management, an investment management joint stock company with registered office at Republikas laukums 2a, Riga, LV-1010 (hereinafter – the Company). The company was founded on 11 January 2002, registration number 40003577500. The operating license number of the investment management joint stock company is 06.03.07.098/367.

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve long-term capital appreciation by investing in share certificates (units) and equivalent securities of investment funds registered in Latvia or other Member States of the European Union. Investments may be made in money market, bond, balanced and equity investment funds, as well as ETFs and equities traded on a regulated market of the Member States of the European Union and the OECD Member States. There are no sectoral restrictions. The Fund has an active investment strategy that focuses on the selection of individual financial instruments, respecting the principles of diversification and risk reduction, including ESG risk management principles. The Fund does not promote environmental and/or social performance within the meaning of the SFDR and does not invest in accordance with the EU taxonomy. But the Fund integrates ESG characteristics into the fund management process in line with the principles of good governance practices and the UN PRI signatory obligations. Equity funds may represent up to 70% of the Fund's assets. The underlying investments for this financial product do not consider the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

During the reporting period, the Fund's net assets increased by EUR 65.244 or by 0.83%, and at the end of the period the Fund's net assets amounted to EUR 7,908,459. Gross assets amounted to EUR 7,920,335 as at 30.06.2026. Over the year, the value per share increased by EUR 1.00, reaching EUR 14.07. In turn, the return of the reporting period was positive in euro terms by 7.65%.

The global economy has so far remained resilient in the face of "external" shocks, such as the conflict involving the U.S., Israel, and Iran, as well as the resulting increase in energy prices. Financial markets also rebounded relatively quickly, following the brief correction in March. By June, stock markets in both developed and emerging economies had reached new record highs. Positive sentiment also quickly returned to the bond markets, despite expectations of tighter monetary policy.

The conflict in the Middle East failed to depress global producer sentiment, which reached its highest level in four years by mid-year. Producer sentiments improved across all major economies, including the U.S., the eurozone, and China, likely supported in part by efforts to build up inventories. At the same time, consumers in developed economies have continued to spend despite higher fuel prices. Household demand remains supported by steady income growth. The eurozone has been more sensitive to rising energy prices than the U.S. In 2026, GDP growth in the eurozone is projected to slow closer to 0.5% – roughly half the pace expected before the conflict. By contrast, the U.S. economy is forecast to grow much faster, by approximately 2.1%.

Oil price developments continued to shape inflation dynamics during the first half of the year. Following reports of a ceasefire, oil prices gradually declined, and inflation in both the U.S. and the eurozone began to ease in June after peaking in May. However, inflation remains higher than previously expected, prompting central banks to adopt a more hawkish monetary policy stance. In June, the ECB raised its deposit rate from 2.00% to 2.25%. Meanwhile, the U.S. FRS has kept its benchmark interest rate unchanged in the 3.50–3.75% range since December, although half of Fed officials expect the policy rate to be higher by the end of the year. Financial markets also expect both the ECB and the Fed to raise interest rates in the second half of the year.

Global equity markets spent the second quarter recovering rapidly from the first-quarter correction triggered by the conflict in Iran and the sharp rise in oil prices. All regions delivered strong returns in the first half of the year, with nearly all major equity markets reaching new record highs. Emerging market equities were the strongest performers over the reporting period, gaining more than 25% in euro-hedged terms. They were followed by European equities, which advanced by nearly 11% (German stocks rose by only 2%). U.S. equities rose by approximately 9% in euro-hedged terms. Investor risk appetite was supported not only by a calmer news flow in the second quarter but also by significant upward revisions to corporate earnings expectations. Unlike in previous quarters, when earnings upgrades were largely concentrated in the technology sector, the current improvement has been much more broad-based.

Bond markets also ended the first half of the year on a positive note. Supported by improving investor sentiment, credit spreads narrowed significantly during the second quarter. As a result, all major bond market segments, except U.S. investment-grade bonds, delivered positive returns in the first half of the year. European high-yield bonds were the best-performing segment, generating a return of nearly 2%. They were followed by European investment-grade bonds, emerging market debt, and U.S. high-yield corporate bonds, which returned around 1.0–1.5% on average. By contrast, U.S. investment-grade corporate bonds finished the first half of the year broadly unchanged, while U.S. Treasury bonds posted a modest decline.

Since the beginning of the year, risks in financial markets have increased. The ceasefires reached between the U.S. and Iran remain extremely fragile, leaving open the possibility of another surge in energy prices. At the same time, the U.S. is approaching its midterm elections, while investors' excessive reliance on the technology sector could lead to additional volatility if market sentiment suddenly shifts.

The following changes took place in the Fund during the reporting period. At the end of the reporting period, the share of funds invested in bond funds accounted for 47.11% of the Fund's net asset value, which is 0.65 percentage points (pp) more than at the beginning of the year. The share of equity funds increased by 0.64 pp to 51.01% of the Fund's net asset value. The share of free cash in the Fund is 2.04% of net assets. All funds in the Fund are registered in one of the European Union member states. Most of the funds (41.58%) are invested in funds registered in Luxembourg. The Fund also has investments in investment funds registered in Latvia and Ireland.

The total management costs during the reporting period amounted to EUR 50,092, which is within the maximum remuneration payable of 1.70% of the Fund's assets as set out in the Fund's Prospectus. The remuneration of the Company for the Sub-Funds of the CBL Opportunities Funds is determined as a percentage per annum of the average net asset value of the Sub-Fund.

The remuneration of the Investment Management Company amounted to EUR 36,869, the remuneration of the Custodian Bank to EUR 6,940 and other management expenses to EUR 6,283, respectively. The Fund's ongoing charges ratio for the period under review was 1.35% of the Fund's average net asset value. The prospectuses of the investment funds managed by the Company do not provide for performance fees.

The Company's management team will continue to follow the trends prevailing in the global financial markets, potentially changing the portfolio structure by country and sector, as well as monitoring the quantitative and qualitative parameters of the instruments included in the Fund's portfolio and compliance with the investment strategy.

From the end of the reporting year until the date of its approval, important events that would have a significant impact on the financial position of the Fund have not occurred.
