Independent auditor's report

To the shareholders of INVL Baltic Farmland AB

Report on the audit of the separate and consolidated financial statements

Our opinion

In our opinion, the separate and consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the separate and consolidated financial position of INVL Baltic Farmland AB ("the Company") and its subsidiaries (together "the Group") as at 31 December 2019, and of their separate and consolidated financial performance and their separate and consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union.

Our opinion is consistent with our additional report to the Audit Committee dated 28 February 2020.

What we have audited

The Company's and the Group's separate and consolidated financial statements comprise:

- the separate and consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2019;
- the separate and consolidated statements of comprehensive income for the year then ended;
- the separate and consolidated statement of changes in equity for the year then ended;
- the separate and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the separate and consolidated financial statements, which include significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Company and the Group in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) and the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on the Audit of Financial Statements that are relevant to our audit of the separate and consolidated financial statements in the Republic of Lithuania. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the IESBA Code and the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on the Audit of Financial Statements.

To the best of our knowledge and belief, we declare that non-audit services that we have provided to the Company and the Group are in accordance with the applicable law and regulations in the Republic of Lithuania and that we have not provided non-audit services that are prohibited under Article 5(1) of Regulation (EU) No 537/2014 considering the exemptions of Regulation (EU) No 537/2014 endorsed in the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on the Audit of Financial Statements.

No non-audit services were provided to the Company and the Group, in the period from 1 January 2019 to 31 December 2019.

Our audit approach

Overview

- Overall the Company and the Group materiality: €134 thousand (2018: €126,6 thousand), which represents 1% of total equity of the Company's and the Group's respectively.
- Our audit covered all reporting units within the Group. All reporting units are in Lithuania.
- Our audit scope covered all Group's revenues and all Group's total assets.
- Valuation of investment properties

As part of designing our audit, we determined materiality and assessed the risks of material misstatement in the separate and consolidated financial statements (together "the financial statements"). In particular, we considered where management made subjective judgements; for example, in respect of significant accounting estimates that involved making assumptions and considering future events that are inherently uncertain. As in all of our audits, we also addressed the risk of management override of internal controls, including, among other matters, consideration of whether there was evidence of bias that represented a risk of material misstatement due to fraud.

Materiality

The scope of our audit was influenced by our application of materiality. An audit is designed to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement. Misstatements may arise due to fraud or error. They are considered material if individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

Based on our professional judgement, we determined certain quantitative thresholds for materiality, including the overall Company and Group materiality for the separate and consolidated financial statements as a whole as set out in the table below. These, together with qualitative considerations, helped us to determine the scope of our audit and the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures and to evaluate the effect of misstatements, if any, both individually and in aggregate on the financial statements as a whole.

Overall Company and Group materiality	Overall materiality applied to the Company and the Group amounted to € 134 thousand (2018: €126,6 thousand).
How we determined it	1% of total equity of the Company and the Group, respectively.
Rationale for the materiality benchmark applied	We have chosen the Group's and Company's equity as the benchmark because, in our view, it is an appropriate measure of underlying performance and the benchmark against which the performance of the Group, the Company and other companies in this industry is most commonly measured by users, and is a generally accepted benchmark. The key driver of the business and determinant of the Group's value is investments into agricultural land, whereas the Company's value represents investments into subsidiaries. Due to this, the key area of focus in the audit of the Group and in the audit of the Company is the valuation of investment property and investments into subsidiaries, respectively. Accordingly, an overall Group and Company materiality level is based on total equity.

We chose 1%, which is within the range of acceptable quantitative materiality thresholds.

We agreed with the Audit Committee that we would report to them misstatements identified during our audit above € 13 thousand, as well as misstatements below that amount that, in our view, warranted reporting for qualitative reasons.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Valuation of Investment Properties Refer to Note 2.18, Note 10 to the financial statements on pages 23 and 33, respectively. The Group's investment properties represent the most significant class of the Group's assets. The investment properties are accounted for at fair value as at the financial reporting date. Management has estimated the fair value of the Group's investment properties to be equal to € 14,719 thousand at 31 December 2019 as compared to € 13,922 thousand as at 31 December 2018. The revaluation gain of € 864 thousand (2018: € 958 thousand) was recorded as fair value gains/losses in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. The valuation of all of the Group's investment properties was based on the independent external valuations. Valuations took into account evidence of market transactions for properties and locations comparable to those of the Group. Given the materiality of investment properties, the revaluation to fair value had a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements. We also focused on this area as the conclusions are dependent upon significant judgement involved in performing the valuation	Our procedures in relation to management expert's valuation of investment properties included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • evaluation of the independent external valuers' competence, capabilities and objectivity; • assessing the methodology used and the appropriateness of the key assumptions based on our knowledge of the agricultural land market; • checking the accuracy and relevance of the input data used; • examining selected independent valuations by obtaining market prices of agricultural land plots in the same geographical area from independent source, adjusting those for productivity parameters and comparing price per hectare of selected land plots to those used by management expert. Because of the subjectivity involved in determining valuations for investment properties, we determined a range of values that were considered reasonable to evaluate the independent property valuations used by management. The valuations used by the Group were within an acceptable range. We also considered whether or not there was bias in determining individual valuations and found no evidence of bias. and they are most sensitive to the assumptions underlying those valuations. In particular, the most significant inputs into this valuation approach are price per hectare and adjustments for differences in key attributes such as land size and productivity.

For this reason, due to existence of significant estimation uncertainty, we have given specific audit focus and attention to this area.

We found the key assumptions were supported by the available evidence and the disclosures in Note 10 to be appropriate.

How we tailored our Group audit scope

We tailored the scope of our audit in order to perform sufficient work to enable us to provide an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole, taking into account the structure of the Group, the accounting processes and controls, and the industry in which the Group operates.

The group comprises of 19 entities: the Company and its subsidiaries, all located in Lithuania. All entities were audited by one engagement team in Lithuania. The group audit team performed full scope audit procedures on the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries.

Reporting on other information including the consolidated annual report

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the consolidated annual report, including the corporate governance (but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon).

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information, including the consolidated annual report.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

With respect to the consolidated annual report, we considered whether the consolidated annual report includes the disclosures required by the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on Consolidated Financial Reporting by Groups of Undertakings, the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on Financial Reporting by Undertakings.

Based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit, in our opinion:

- the information given in the consolidated annual report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared, is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the consolidated annual report has been prepared in accordance with the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on Consolidated Financial Reporting by Groups of Undertakings and the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on Financial Reporting by Undertakings.

In addition, in light of the knowledge and understanding of the Company and the Group and their environment obtained in the course of the audit, we are required to report if we have identified material misstatements in the consolidated annual report which we obtained prior to the date of this auditor's report. We have nothing to report in this respect.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's and the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company and the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's and the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's and the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's and the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company and the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the Group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and have communicated with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies applied in preparing the Group's and the Company's financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2019 are as follows:

2.1. Basis of preparation

Statement of compliance

The financial statements of the Company and the consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as adopted by the European Union (hereinafter the EU).

These financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for investment properties that have been measured at fair value. The financial statements are presented in thousands of euro (EUR) and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand except when otherwise indicated. From 1 January 2015 the euro became local currency of the Republic of Lithuania.

Adoption of new and/or changed IFRSs and IFRIC interpretations

The Group/Company has adopted the new and amended IFRS and IFRIC interpretations as of 1 January 2019:

- IFRS 16 Leases (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019);
- IFRIC 23 Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019);
- Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2015-2017 cycle (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019);
- Amendments to IAS 28 Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019);
- Amendments to IFRS 9 Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019);
- Amendments to IAS 19: Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019).

IFRS 16 Leases

The new standard sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases. All leases result in the lessee obtaining the right to use an asset at the start of the lease and, if lease payments are made over time, also obtaining financing. Accordingly, IFRS 16 eliminates the classification of leases as either operating leases or finance leases as is required by IAS 17 and, instead, introduces a single lessee accounting model. Lessees will be required to recognise: (a) assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is of low value; and (b) depreciation of lease assets separately from interest on lease liabilities in the income statement. IFRS 16 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in IAS 17, that are continued to be applied by the Group. Accordingly, a lessor continues to classify its leases as operating leases or finance leases, and to account for those two types of leases differently. The adoption of the standard did not have an impact on the Group's and the Company's financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2019, because the Group and the Company are not party to any agreements as lessee. The Group and the Company did not need to make any adjustments to the accounting for assets held as lessor under operating leases as a result of the adoption of IFRS 16. The revised accounting policy for lease income recognition is disclosed in Note 2.13 and revised disclosures is presented in Note 6.

All other amendments adopted as of 1 January 2019 had no impact on the Group's and Company's financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2019.

Standards adopted by the EU but not yet effective and have not been early adopted

Other amendments to existing standards and new standards, which are adopted by the EU, but not yet effective, are not relevant to the Group and the Company.

Standards not yet adopted by the EU

Amendments to existing standards and new standards, which are not yet adopted by the EU, are not relevant to the Group and the Company.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

2.2. Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries. The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting year as the parent company, using consistent accounting policies.

Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) over which the group has control. The Group controls an entity when the group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases. All intra-group balances, transactions, income and expenses, unrealised gains and losses and dividends resulting from intra-group transactions that are recognised in assets, are eliminated in full.

When the group ceases to have control, any retained interest in the entity is remeasured to its fair value, with the change in carrying amount recognised in profit or loss. The fair value is the initial carrying amount for the purposes of subsequently accounting for the retained interest as an associate, joint venture or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in respect of that entity are accounted for as if the group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. This may mean that amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss or retained earnings, as appropriate.

2.3. Functional and presentation currency

From 1 January 2015 the euro became local currency of the Republic of Lithuania. The financial statements are prepared in euro (EUR), which is local currency of the Republic of Lithuania, and presented in EUR thousand. Euro is the Company's and the Group's functional and presentation currency. The exchange rates in relation to other currencies are set daily by the European Central Bank and the Bank of Lithuania.

As these financial statements are presented in euro thousand, individual amounts were rounded. Due to the rounding, totals in the tables may not add up.

2.4. Business combinations and goodwill

The Group applies the acquisition method of accounting to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary is the fair values of the assets transferred, the liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group. The consideration transferred includes the fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement. Acquisition-related costs are expensed. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are, with limited exceptions, measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date. On an acquisition-by-acquisition basis, the Group recognises any non-controlling interest in the acquiree either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the recognised amounts of acquiree's identifiable net assets.

When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date.

The excess of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and the acquisition-date fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquiree over the fair value of the group's share of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If the total of consideration transferred, non-controlling interest recognised and previously held interest measured is less than the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired in the case of a bargain purchase, the difference is recognised directly in profit or loss.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

2.5. Investment properties

Land that is held for long-term rental yields and for capital appreciation is classified as investment properties.

Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are carried at fair value, which reflects market conditions at the reporting date. Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair values of investment properties are included in profit or loss in the year in which they arise.

Investment properties are derecognised when either they have been disposed of or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from its disposal. Any gains or losses on the retirement or disposal of an investment property are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income within "Net gains (losses) from fair value adjustments on investment property" in the year of retirement or disposal.

2.6. Investments into subsidiaries (the Company)

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for using the equity method of accounting.

Under the equity method, the investment in the subsidiary is carried in the statement of financial position at cost plus post acquisition changes in the Company's share of net assets of the subsidiary. Goodwill relating to a subsidiary is included in the carrying amount of the investment and is neither amortised nor individually tested for impairment. The statement of comprehensive income reflects the share of the results of operations of the subsidiary. Where there has been a change recognised in the other comprehensive income of the subsidiary, the Company recognises its share of any changes and discloses this, when applicable, in the other comprehensive income. Company's share in the changes in the net assets of the subsidiary that are not recognised in profit or loss or other comprehensive income (OCI) of the subsidiary, are recognised in equity. Unrealised gains and losses (unless the transaction provides evidence of the impairment of asset transferred) resulting from transactions between the Company and the subsidiary are eliminated to the extent of the interest in the subsidiary.

The reporting dates of the subsidiary and the Company are identical and the subsidiary's accounting policies conform to those used by the Company for like transactions and events in similar circumstances. After application of the equity method, the Company determines whether it is necessary to recognise an additional impairment loss of the Company's investment in its subsidiaries. The Company determines at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that the investment in subsidiary is impaired. If this is the case the Company calculates the amount of impairment as being the difference between the recoverable amount of the subsidiary and its carrying value and recognises the amount in the statement of comprehensive income. When the Company's share of losses in a subsidiary equals or exceeds its interest in the subsidiary, including any other unsecured receivables, the Company does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the subsidiary.

2.7. Financial assets

Financial assets within the scope of IFRS 9 are classified as either financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (either through other comprehensive income or through profit or loss) or financial assets measured at amortised cost. The classification depends on the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

As the business model for the Group's and the Company's financial assets are held to collect contractual cash flows and they are solely payments of principal and interest, the Group and the Company have only financial assets measured at amortised cost. They comprised trade and other receivables, loans granted, cash and cash equivalents. The Group and the Company reclassifies debt instruments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

Financial assets are recognised when the Group/the Company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the financial assets have expired or have been transferred and the Group/the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership.

At initial recognition, the Group/the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in profit or loss.

2.7 Financial assets (cont'd)

Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is calculated using the effective interest rate method and presented as "interest income" in the statement of comprehensive income. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised directly in profit or loss. Impairment losses are presented as separate line item in the statement of comprehensive income.

2.8. Impairment of financial assets

From 1 January 2018, the Group/the Company assesses on a forward-looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its financial assets carried at amortised cost. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

The Group/the Company follows a three-stage model for impairment for financial assets other than trade receivables:

- Stage 1 – balances, for which the credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition, or that have low credit risk at the reporting date. For these assets, 12-month expected credit losses ('ECL') are recognised and interest revenue is calculated on the gross carrying amount of the asset (that is, without deduction for credit allowance). 12-month ECL are the expected credit losses that result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. It is not the expected cash shortfalls over the 12-month period but the entire credit loss on an asset weighted by the probability that the loss will occur in the next 12 months;
- Stage 2 – comprises balances for which there have been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition (unless they have low credit risk at the reporting date) but that do not have objective evidence of impairment. For these assets, lifetime ECL are recognised, but interest revenue is still calculated on the gross carrying amount of the asset. Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the expected life of the financial instrument. Expected credit losses are the weighted average credit losses with the probability of default ('PD') as the weight;
- Stage 3 – comprises balances with objective evidence of impairment at the reporting date. For these assets, lifetime ECL are recognised and interest revenue is calculated on the net carrying amount (that is, net of credit allowance).

Loans granted are considered to be low credit risk when they have a low risk of default and the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term.

The financial assets are considered as credit-impaired, if objective evidence of impairment exist at the reporting date. Evidence of impairment may include indications that the debtors or a group of debtors is experiencing significant financial difficulty, default or delinquency in payments, the probability that they will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation.

Financial assets are written off, in whole or in part, when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Indicators that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery include, among others, the probability of insolvency or significant financial difficulties of the debtor. Impaired debts are derecognised when they are assessed as uncollectible.

For trade and other receivables, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. Trade receivables are classified either to Stage 2 or Stage 3:

- Stage 2 – comprises receivables for which the simplified approach was applied to measure the expected lifetime credit losses, except for certain trade receivables classified in Stage 3;
- Stage 3 – comprises trade receivables which are overdue more than 360 days or individually identified as impaired.

The expected loss rates are based on the payment profiles of rent over a period of 36 months before reporting date and the corresponding historical credit losses experienced within this period. The historical loss rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors affecting the ability of the tenants to settle the receivable. Such forward-looking information would include:

- changes in economic, regulatory, technological and environmental factors, (such as industry outlook, GDP, employment and politics);
- external market indicators; and
- tenant base.

2.9. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less.

For the purpose of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and in current bank account as well as deposit in bank with an original maturity of three months or less.

2.10. Financial liabilities

The Group recognises a financial liability when it first becomes a party to the contractual rights and obligations in the contract.

All financial liabilities are initially recognised at fair value, minus (in the case of a financial liability that is not at fair value through profit or loss) transaction costs that are directly attributable to issuing the financial liability. Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires.

Trade payables

Trade payables are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Accounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the business if longer). Financial liabilities included in trade payables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently at amortised cost. The fair value of a non-interest bearing liability is its discounted repayment amount. If the due date of the liability is less than one year, discounting is omitted.

2.11. Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are recognised in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds. Where any group company purchases the company's equity share capital (treasury shares), the consideration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs (net of income taxes) is deducted from equity attributable to the company's equity holders until the shares are cancelled or reissued. Where such shares are subsequently reissued, any consideration received, net of any directly attributable incremental transaction costs and the related income tax effects, is included in equity attributable to the company's equity holders.

2.12. Leases

Group's company is the lessor in an operating lease

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the Group's company are classified as operating leases. Payments, including pre-payments, received under operating leases (net of any incentives granted to the lessee) are credited to the statement of comprehensive income on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease. The Group account for a modification to an operating lease as a new lease from the effective date of the modification, considering any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to the original lease as part of the lease payments for the new lease.

See Note 2.13 for the recognition of lease income.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

2.13. Revenue recognition

Revenue includes lease income, interest income and other income. Other income includes penalties from tenants for overdue payments.

Lease income

Accounting policy applied from 1 January 2019

Lease income from operating leases where the Group is a lessor is recognised in income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Initial direct costs incurred in obtaining an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the underlying asset and recognised as expense over the lease term on the same basis as lease income. The Group elected to recognise lease income for variable payment that depends on an index or a rate in the periods in which changes of index or rate occur. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as lease income in the periods in which the event or condition that triggers those payments occurs. When the Group provides incentives to its tenants, the cost of the incentives is recognised over the lease term, on a straight-line basis, as a reduction of lease income.

At the commencement date, the Group assesses whether the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend the lease or not to exercise an option to terminate the lease. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the lessee to exercise, or not to exercise, the option, including any expected changes in facts and circumstances from the commencement date until the exercise date of the option.

In the first quarter rental fee, except variable part related to land tax, is invoiced to the tenants. In the fourth quarter variable part of the rent related to land tax is invoiced to the tenants, when State tax authorities provide an estimate of the land tax and land tax expenses are recognised.

Accounting policy applied until 31 December 2018

Lease income arising from operating leases of land is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease terms. When the Group provides incentives to its tenants, the cost of incentives is recognised over the lease term, on a straight-line basis, as a reduction of lease income.

According to agreements land rent consists of two parts – a fixed rent for a year and a variable part equal to land tax paid to the State for the year. In the first quarter fixed rental fee is invoiced to the tenants. In the fourth quarter variable part of the rent is invoiced to the tenants, when State tax authorities provide an estimate of the land tax and the lease income equal to the variable rent amount as well as land tax expenses are recognised.

Interest income

Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for financial assets that subsequently become credit-impaired. For credit-impaired financial assets the effective interest rate is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (after deduction of the loss allowance).

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

2.14. Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-maker. The chief operating decision-maker, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments, has been identified as the Board of Directors that makes strategic decisions. All financial information, including the measure of profit, total assets and total liabilities, is analysed as single reporting segment - agricultural land segment, therefore is not further disclosed in these financial statements.

2.15. Current and deferred income tax

The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised directly in equity.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period in Lithuania where the Company and its subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

The standard income tax rate in Lithuania was 15 % in 2018 and 2019. Starting from 2010, tax losses can be transferred at no consideration or in exchange for certain consideration between the group companies if certain conditions are met.

Deferred income tax is recognised on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if they arise from the initial recognition of goodwill; deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

The deferred tax liability in relation to investment property that is measured at fair value is determined assuming the property will be recovered entirely through sale.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

Following the provisions of Law on Corporate Income Tax the sale of shares of an entity, registered or otherwise organised in a state of the European Economic Area or in a state with which a treaty for the avoidance of double taxation has been concluded and brought into effect and which is a payer of corporate income tax or an equivalent tax, to another entity or a natural person shall not be taxed where the entity transferring the shares held more than 10% of voting shares in that entity for an uninterrupted period of at least two years. If mentioned condition is met or is expected to be met by the management of the Company, no deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognised in respect of temporary differences associated with carrying amounts of these investments.

Tax losses can be carried forward for indefinite period, except for the losses incurred as a result of disposal of securities and/or derivative financial instruments. Such carrying forward is disrupted if the Company changes its activities due to which these losses incurred except when the Company does not continue its activities due to reasons which do not depend on the Company itself. The losses from disposal of securities and/or derivative financial instruments can be carried forward for 5 consecutive years and only be used to reduce the taxable income earned from the transactions of the same nature. From 1 January 2014 current year taxable profit could be decreased by previous year tax losses only up to 70%.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income taxes assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

2.16. Employee benefits

Social security contributions

The Company and the Group pay social security contributions to the state Social Security Fund (the Fund) on behalf of its employees based on the defined contribution plan in accordance with the local legal requirements. A defined contribution plan is a plan under which the Group pays fixed contributions into the Fund and will have no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the Fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior period. Social security contributions are recognised as expenses on an accrual basis and included in payroll expenses.

Bonus plans

The Company and the Group recognises a liability and an expense for bonuses where contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

2.17. Events after the reporting period

Events after the reporting period that provide additional information about the Group's position as at the end of the reporting period (adjusting events) are reflected in the financial statements. Events after the reporting period that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the notes when material.

2.18. Significant accounting judgements and estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires management of the Group and the Company to make judgements and estimates that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities, at the end of reporting period. However, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that could require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset or liability affected in the future periods.

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Judgements

In the process of applying the Group accounting policies, management has not made any judgements, which has most significant effect on the amounts recognised in these financial statements.

Estimates and assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The Group based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the consolidated financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising beyond the control of the Group. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

The significant areas of estimation used in the preparation of these financial statements are discussed below.

Fair value of investment properties in consolidated financial statements

Fair value of investment properties was based on the market approach by reference to sales in the market of comparable properties. Market approach refers to the prices of the analogous transactions in the market. These values are adjusted for differences in key attributes such as land size and productivity.

The fair value of the investment properties as at 31 December 2019 was EUR 14,719 thousand (as at 31 December 2018 – EUR 13,922 thousand) (described in more details in Note 10).

3 Financial risk management

3.1. Financial risk factors

The risk management function within the Group is carried out in respect of financial risks, operational risks and legal risks and managed on an overall Group level by the Management Board. After signing land administration agreement most of operational and legal risks, as well as credit risk are managed by the third party UAB INVL Farmland Management. The primary objectives of the financial risk management function are to establish risk limits, and then ensure that exposure to risks stays within these limits. The operational and legal risk management functions are intended to ensure proper functioning of internal policies and procedures to minimise operational and legal risks. To limit operational risk, annual documentation reviews are held. This helps to limit legal risks as well in case a dispute arises and all the documentation is in place and of appropriate quality and can be used to prove the rights. Legal risk is limited as well by the fact that counterparties do not grant guarantees on each other.

The Group's and the Company's principal financial liabilities comprise trade and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Group's and the Company's operations. The Group and the Company have various financial assets such as trade and other receivables, loans granted and cash which arise directly from their operations. The Company and the Group have not used any derivative instruments and borrowings so far, as management considered that there is no necessity for them.

The main risks arising from the financial instruments are market risk (including currency risk, cash flow and fair value interest rate risk and price risk), liquidity risk and credit risk. The risks are identified and disclosed below.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, credit exposures to outstanding trade receivables and loans granted. As at 31 December 2019 the Group had a significant concentration of credit risk related to two tenants. The balance of trade receivable from tenant A comprise approximately 46% of the Group's total trade receivables, gross (before write off and provision). Impairment loss of EUR 106 thousand for the trade receivable from tenant A was recognised as at 31 December 2019 (approximately 81% of the receivable). The balance of trade receivable from tenant B comprise approximately 27% of the Group's total trade receivables, gross (before write off and provision). The trade receivable from tenant B is secured by pledge of land plots. As at 31 December 2018 the Group had a significant concentration of credit risk related to tenant A, for which the balance of trade receivable accounted for comprise approximately 44% of the Group's total trade receivables, gross (before write off and provision). 70% (EUR 52 thousand) of the receivable from tenant A was provided for in 2018. The credit risk is managed by the third party UAB INVL Farmland Management according to the agreement (Note 7). The third party seeks to ensure that lease contracts are entered into only with lessees with an appropriate credit history.

The maximum exposure to credit risk, impairment of financial assets is disclosed in Notes 12 and 13. In Note 13 is also disclosed credit risk exposure of trade receivable. There are no transactions of the Group or the Company that occur outside Lithuania.

With respect to credit risk arising from cash and cash equivalents the Group's and the Company's exposure to credit risk arises from default of the counterparty, with a maximum exposure equal to the carrying amount of these instruments.

According to the European deposit insurance scheme, cash, cash equivalents and deposits of up to EUR 100 thousand of every legal entity in each bank are covered with insurance. All the Group's and the Company's balance of cash and cash equivalents are covered with the insurance. Therefore, all cash balances have a low credit risk at the reporting date and the impairment loss determined on 12-month expected credit losses is resulted in an immaterial amount.

The credit quality of cash and cash equivalents can be assessed by reference to external credit ratings of the banks:

3 Financial risk management (cont'd)

3.1 Financial risk factors (cont'd)

Market risk

Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

The Group has no borrowings and loans granted. The Company has loans granted to its subsidiaries with fixed interest rates for one year. Therefore, the Group and the Company are not exposed to cash flow interest rate risk.

Foreign exchange risk

The Group and the Company holds assets and liabilities denominated only in the euro. Therefore, the Group and the Company are not exposed to foreign exchange risk.

Price risk

The Group is not exposed to price risk of financial instruments as it does not hold any equity securities or commodities.

Liquidity risk

The Group's and the Company's policy is to maintain sufficient cash and cash equivalents. The liquidity risk of the Group and the Company is controlled on an overall Group level. The Group and the Company have not been facing any liquidity issues so far. The proceeds from rent and cash balances are sufficient to settle all liabilities.

The Group's liquidity ratio (total current assets / total current liabilities) as at 31 December 2019 was approximately 2,29 (1,47 as at 31 December 2018). The Company's liquidity ratio as at 31 December 2019 was approximately 0,79 (1,51 as at 31 December 2018).

4 Fair value estimation

Assets carried at fair value

The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices);

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

The following table provides the fair value measurement hierarchy of the Group's assets measured at fair value in the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2019.

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total balance
Assets of the Group
Investment properties (Note 10)	-	14,719	-	14,719

The following table provides the fair value measurement hierarchy of the Group's assets measured at fair value in the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2018.

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total balance

Investment properties (Note 10)	-	13,922	-	13,922

There were no transfers of assets between the levels of the fair value hierarchy during 2019 and 2018.

There were no liabilities measured at fair value in the Group's and the Company's statements of financial position.

Financial instruments that are not carried at fair value

The Group's and the Company's principal financial instruments that are not carried at fair value in the statement of financial position are cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables, loans granted, trade and other payables.

The carrying amount of the cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables, trade and other payables of the Group and the Company as at 31 December 2019 and 2018 reasonably approximated their fair value because they are short-term and the impact of discounting is immaterial.

The carrying amount of loans granted by the Company approximates their fair value because the interest rates are reviewed at the end of each financial year and adjusted in line with market rates changes. Their fair value is based on cash flows discounted using 4.5 % interest rate as at 31 December 2019 and 2018 It is Level 3 fair value measurement.

6 Segment information and operating lease commitments

Management of the Company has determined the operating segments based on the reports reviewed by the Board of Directors that are used to make strategic decisions. All financial information, including the measure of profit, total assets and total liabilities, is analysed as a single reporting segment - agricultural land segment, therefore is not further disclosed in these financial statements. The Company and its subsidiaries are domiciled in Lithuania. There are no transactions of the Group or the Company that occur outside Lithuania. Therefore, the management has neither analysed revenue, nor other financial indicators by geographical areas. All revenue of the Group is received from one type of service – rent of land. Therefore, the Group has not disclosed any breakdown of revenue by product and services type and by geographical areas.

In 2019 is one customer from which the Group has received approximately 10% of its revenue. In 2018 is two customers from which each the Group has received approximately 11% of its revenue.

Operating lease commitments – Group as a lessor

The Group has entered into leases of the Group's investment properties under operating lease agreements with rentals payable yearly in two parts. First part of rent is payable until 1 April according to the most Group's lease agreements. Second part of rent related to land tax is payable in November – December. Most of the agreements have remaining terms of between 1 and 5 years. The most Group's lease agreements have clause for indexation on consumer price index or unilaterally right to increase rent by notice. Approximately 50% of land plots is leased with clause of agreement that lessee could have to pay surcharge that depends on milling wheat futures price change. Although the Group is exposed to changes in the residual value at the end of the current leases, the Group typically enters into new operating leases and therefore will not immediately realise any reduction in residual value at the end of these leases. Expectations about the future residual values are reflected in the fair value of the land.

Cancellable lease agreements can be cancelled under the following terms:

- Tenants must notify the lessor 12 months in advance if they wish to cancel the rent agreement without any reason and have to pay annual rent fee for these 12 months.
- The lessor has the right to unilaterally change the rent price for the coming year and must notify the tenant about the change till 1 May of the current year. If tenants do not agree with the new rent price, they can terminate the agreement with notification of 3 months in advance.

In 2019 lease income relating to variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate was EUR 29 thousand (2018: EUR 25 thousand).

10 Investment properties

The movements of investment properties during 2019 and 2018 were:

	2019	2018
Fair value hierarchy	Level 2
Balance as at 1 January	13,922	12,964
Gain from fair value adjustment	864	989
Loss from fair value adjustment	-	(31)

Balance as at 31 December	14,719	13,922
Unrealised gains and losses for the period included within 'Net gains (losses) from fair value adjustments on investment property' in the statement of comprehensive income	859	958

Investment properties are stated at fair value and are valued by accredited valuer UAB korporacija Matininkai using sales comparison method, except land plots, which would be taken for the public needs (more described below). The valuations were performed in December 2019 and in December 2018.

The fair value represents the price that would be received selling an asset in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. An investment property's fair value was based on the market approach by reference to sales in the market of comparable properties. Market approach refers to the prices of the analogues transactions in the market. These values are adjusted for differences in key attributes such as land plot size and productivity. The most significant input into this valuation approach is price per hectare.

There were no changes to the valuation techniques during the period.

In January 2017 the Group received letters from Ministry of Transport and Communications informing about possibility to take for the purpose of Rail Baltica project 6 land plots owned by the Group. The Group had no right to sell, pledge, restructure or in any other way restrict rights to those land plots. The Group was informed that 11.23 ha of above mentioned land plots would be taken for the public needs. The ownership of these land plots was transferred to the State in first half-year of 2019. The Ministry engaged a qualified valuer who valued the land plots at amount of EUR 62 thousand, which was recognised on the Group's statement of financial position as at 31 December 2018. The Group had no objections to the results of valuation of four out of six land plots, whereas for the remaining land plots (with the carrying value of EUR 18 thousand) the Group is litigated valuation and finally agreed on valuation of EUR 23 thousand.

10 Investment properties (cont'd)

In 2nd Quarter 2019 the Group received letters from Ministry of Transport and Communications informing about possibility to take for the purpose of construction and reconstruction of local roads, related to project of Rail Baltica, 8 land plots owned by the Group (77.2 ha, with the carrying amount of EUR 403 thousand). The Group has no right to sell, pledge, restructure or in any other way restrict rights to those land plots. The Group was informed that 6.56 ha of above mentioned land plots would be taken for the public needs (the value of the land plots in the Group's statement of financial position as at 31 December 2019 was EUR 36 thousand). The Republic of Lithuania plans to finalize procedures of land redemption for public needs in the first half year of 2020. Only after the procedures have been finalized will be clear the size of the compensation received by the Group.

On 1 May 2014 changes to the Agricultural Land Acquisition temporary law entered into force, providing restrictions of the purchase of agricultural land (including restriction of purchase of shares in the legal entity owning agricultural land). These restrictions mean that the Group cannot purchase additional agricultural land and/or acquire shares in entities owning agricultural land. As a result of restrictions the land sale market in Lithuania became less liquid.

There were no other restrictions on the realisation of investment properties or the remittance of income and proceeds of disposals during 2019 and 2018. No contractual obligations to purchase investment properties existed at the end of the period.

The Company's loans granted are described below:

	2019	2018
Loans granted to subsidiaries	4,136	4,320
Total loans granted	4,136	4,320

The movements of loans granted to subsidiaries during the year were:

Loans granted during year	116
Loans repayment received	(316)
Interest charged	185
Interest received	(169)
Balance as at 31 December 2019	4,136

The contractual maturity of loans granted to subsidiaries is 31 December 2019 according to the agreements, but the Company classifies them as long term, because intends to prolong them on maturity date. Effective interest rate of loans is 4.5 %. At each year end maturity of the loans granted is prolonged for one extra year and new market interest rate is determined.

While the loans granted to the subsidiaries are the main liabilities of the subsidiaries and the fair values of investment properties owned by the subsidiaries are approximately 2 – 5.5 times higher than the carrying amounts of the loans granted, they were considered as low credit risk financial assets at the reporting date. This is because even if loans granted were covered in the case of forced sale of investment properties, the Company considers that the loss given default would amount to zero. As at 31 December 2019 and 2018, the Company's loans granted were neither overdue nor impaired and they had no history of counterparty defaults. The Company's policy is to grant loans only to the subsidiaries controlled by it. The maximum credit risk as at the financial reporting date is the carrying amount of each category of amounts receivable as indicated above. The Company does not hold any collateral, but investment properties owned by the subsidiaries are not pledged to any other party and in fact secure loans granted.

The carrying amount of loans granted by the Company approximates their fair value because the interest rates are reviewed at the end of each year and adjusted when market rates change. Their value is based on cash flows discounted using 4.5 % and interest rate as at 31 December 2019 and 2018. It is Level 3 fair value measurement.

IV. INFORMATION ABOUT THE ISSUER'S AND ITS GROUP COMPANIES' ACTIVITY

15 Overview of the Issuer and its group activity

15.1. BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT

According to data from the Department of Statistics, in December 2019, the annual inflation rate in Lithuania was 2.7%; this figure was 1.9% in December 2018. Despite the fact that the overall annual inflation rate in Lithuania remains relatively stable, its constituent parts have changed in 2019. Comparison of the two years (2018 and 2019) shows that a greater price growth was recorded in 2019. The changes in the prices were significantly affected by the prices of vegetables that increased in the spring and summer, which growth was likely due to the weather conditions unfavourable for agricultural activities. In 2019, the average annual inflation rate was recorded in all EU countries (2019, compared to 2018). The figure was 1.5% for the EU and 1.2% for the eurozone.

In 2019, the country's gross domestic product (GDP) at the prices of that period totalled EUR 48.3 billion, the Lithuanian Department of Statistics reported. Compared to 2018, the real change of the GDP, following elimination of the effect of seasons and the number of business days, was 3.9%. In Q4 2019, the GDP at the prices of that period totalled EUR 12.6 billion, the Lithuanian Department of Statistics reported. Compared to Q3 2019, the real change of the GDP, following elimination of the effect of seasons and the number of business days, was 1.3%. The greatest positive effect on the change of the GDP was due to the added value created by industrial and service companies. The economic growth in 2019 was somewhat more rapid compared to 2018, and the growth of the GDP was 4.3% in Q1, 4.0% in Q2, 3.7% in Q3 and 3.7% in Q4.

According to the Bank of Lithuania, despite the continuing fairly rapid growth of the Lithuanian economy, certain signs of a slowdown are evident. It is currently forecast that the Lithuanian economy, which grew by 3.7% in 2019, will grow by 2.5% next year. The European Commission forecasts that the economic growth in Lithuania will slow down in 2020 due to the slow development of the economies of key export partners and that the GDP will increase by up to 2.5%. The main risks to the country's economy still include the growing tension related to international trade and the slowdown of economic growth among some of Lithuania's key foreign trade partners. As noted by the Bank of Lithuania, the activity of the country's economy is likely to decrease further. The poor and disappointing global economic development result in the cautious planning of investments in the open economic sector. Despite the fact that, to date, exports have grown more than foreign markets did, the uncertainty as to whether the occupied export market shares will continue to rapidly increase or not persists. A more moderate growth of both investments and exports (and the real economic indicators that have increased the most in the past year) is expected next year. There is also the assumption that the less active use of EU support funds will also affect the scope of investments.

In 2019, agricultural products worth EUR 2.619 billion were produced in Lithuania. The value of agricultural produce at the prices of that period increased by 14.8%. The value of the plant breeding produce increased by 22.9%, and that of the animal husbandry produce increased by 2.8%. This was affected by the 18.5% increase in the volume of the plant growing produce and the 5% increase in the purchase prices of the plant growing products. The volume of the animal husbandry produce decreased by 0.1%, but the purchase prices of this produce increased by 3.1%. The purchase prices increased the most for fruits and vegetables (33.2%), potatoes (31.6 %) and pigs (17.3%) and decreased the most for rye (5.4%) and cattle (5.2%).

Analysis of the long-term trends shows that the situation in the agricultural sector is improving, and the performance in this field is improving throughout the country. The fertility rate for grain has nearly doubled in the past ten years. The added value created by the sector has also increased considerably. All these developments encourage investments in the agricultural equipment, increase of farm sizes, and development and application of expertise and new technology intended for the upgrade of agricultural sector. Considerable support from the EU structural funds has been allocated to the agricultural and food sector and rural development in the past decade. The increase in the volume of the provided support normally results in the increase of land prices and land rents.

The growth of prices of agricultural land in the past years was significantly affected by the consistently improving national economy, the growing incomes of the market players and the activity of the market players in more expensive territories provided with well-developed communications and road and services infrastructure. The prices of plots of agricultural land are also affected by the high profitability of agricultural activities supported by EU grants for agriculture as well as the increase in the sizes of farms resulting from acquisition or lease of additional agricultural land. The supply of plots of agricultural land in Lithuania is fairly active, but the selection of land plots suitable for farming is becoming scarce. Major farmers increase their facilities by purchasing small land plots, but the supply of these shrinks each year. Fertile land plots are sold very quickly.

The restrictions on the acquisition of agricultural land enforced in Lithuania and the consistently growing purchase price of plots of agricultural land raise the demand for leased land and the lease rates. Young farmers, farmers with large farm areas and agricultural companies are very interested in the lease of land plots since after plots of agricultural land are leased a higher probability to subsequently purchase them appears in case land owners wish to sell their land plots.

More stringent amendments to the Provisional Law on the Acquisition of Agricultural Land became effective in May 2014. These amendments do not allow related parties to acquire more than 500 hectares of land from the State or other persons. A new wording of the Law on the Acquisition of Agricultural Land became effective on 1 January 2018. According to the State Enterprise Agricultural Information and Rural Business Centre, the amendments to the law were aimed to deal with the problem of land purchase and concentration that is encountered both in the EU and globally. In the new wording of the law, the legislator has set as one of the objectives of the law the restriction on land purchase and concentration and land price speculations and the assurance of the transparency of land purchase agreements. The wording of the law enforced prior to 2018 only permitted the purchase of agricultural land to a person that has professional skills and competence, i.e. satisfies the eligibility requirements prescribed by the law. The new wording of the law enforced from 1 January 2018 does not contain any eligibility requirements. The list of persons that have the pre-emptive right to purchase private agricultural land was adjusted in the Law on the Acquisition of Agricultural Land. The new wording of the law ensures the right to purchase land for persons engaged in agricultural activities. A complex sale of land was one of the ways to diverge from the earlier Law on the Acquisition of Agricultural Land. The new wording of the law provides for the prohibition to land plot owners to set the condition of sale of a land plot providing that a person that enjoys the pre-emptive right only may avail of it if it acquires the land plot together with the other land plots offered for sale. This provision is no longer effective when land plots offered for sale have adjacent borders. The new wording of the Law on the Acquisition of Agricultural Land effective from 1 January 2018 provides that agreements of purchase and sale of land may only be executed with payments made via bank transfers. The aim of this provision is to exclude bad faith agreements and transactions. The new wording of the law also provides that related parties that manage in the Lithuanian territory by right of ownership agricultural land plots with an area greater than specified in the law (300 hectares, in certain cases 500 hectares) may conclude agreements of transfer of agricultural land plots with each other provided that the total area of the agricultural land acquired by such related parties does not increase as a result of such agreements and that the area of the agricultural land of each of these related parties does not exceed 500 hectares.

INVL Baltic Farmland owns 100% of the shares of 18 private joint-stock companies, which, taken together, have purchased a total of more than 3,000 hectares of agricultural land in Lithuania.

Starting from 30 June 2015, when the simple administration agreement was signed with INVL Farmland Management, a company managed by Invalda INVL (one of the largest asset management group in the Baltic countries), the administration of land plots was assigned to this company. The term of validity of the simple administration agreement referred to above will expire on 31 December 2020.

The enforced more stringent requirements for the acquisition of land have resulted in that companies of the INVL Baltic Farmland group are no longer able to directly invest in agricultural land in Lithuania and are unable to overtake the control of companies that manage agricultural land.

INVL Baltic Farmland is seeking to earn in the long run from the increase in land rent and from the growth of the value of land. According to the data of the property valuation conducted in Q4 2019, the value of the land plots has increased in the course of the year by 6.2% and reached EUR 14.72 million. One hectare is valued on average at EUR 4,740.

The following graph shows the difference of prices of agricultural land in Lithuania by region:

16 A description of the principal advantages, uncertainties encountered, risks and uncertainties

16.1. ADVANTAGES OF INVESTMENTS

Agricultural land in Lithuania is undervalued

Agricultural land prices in Lithuania are among the lowest in the European Union, and much lower than in neighbouring Poland. This is caused by increased land fragmentation and other reasons.

Land allows saving core capital and has a low risk

After recent market turmoil, investors are paying more and more attention on capital preservation. Investment in agricultural land is backed by assets which has only a small possibility of devaluation. Historical data shows that land, in the long term, is characterized by strong core capital preservation features. Unlike investments in exhaustible metals, oil and gas resources, a well-managed agricultural land is a completely renewable resource, which remains productive forever.

Land is a good protection against inflation

Agricultural land, as an asset class, has a positive correlation with inflation. Historically, agricultural land values rose faster than inflation, therefore agricultural land is an effective insurance against inflation and a capital preservation tool. It may be attractive to investors, who are worried about governments' inflationary policies.

Land generates stable income

Unlike other popular insurance against inflation measures, such as precious metals, land provides a regular income to the investor, which, in the low interest environment, is often higher than the deposit or bond interest. Although land investment does not bring the highest income in the real estate sector, not depreciating assets with strong price growth potential and close to 100 % occupation (unlike commercial real estate, high-quality agricultural land demand is always high, regardless of the economic environment) generate the income.

Investment in land is characterized by lower income volatility

By placing agricultural land in a diversified portfolio, investors can reduce the risk of income shortage at a time when other assets generate little or no income. While the long-term rise in agricultural commodity prices positively affect the value of land, short-term fluctuations in the price of production are assumed by the farmer rather than the landowner.

Historically, land had higher yield

In developed countries agricultural land had higher profits than other asset classes, including equities, bonds and commercial real estate, despite the lower risk (measured as the standard deviation of the annual return).

Land is an attractive diversification tool

Agricultural land yield has a low or even negative correlation with traditional asset classes like stocks and bonds, and a small positive correlation with residential and commercial real estate. These features make farmland an attractive diversification tool that can reduce the impact of general market fluctuations on diversified portfolio.

Agricultural land advantages compared with other real estate investments

Investment in agricultural land is classified as a real estate, but has unique features. This allowed agricultural land to protect itself from extreme falls in the value of assets, which were experienced by residential and commercial property during the crisis.

16.2. RISK FACTORS

Information, provided in this section, should not be considered complete and covering all aspects of the risk factors associated with the activity and securities of the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland.

Risk factors, associated with activities of INVL Baltic Farmland

Restriction of the purchase of agricultural land

The public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland invests in agricultural land in Lithuania through its owned private companies. In 1 January 2014 changes to the Agricultural Land Acquisition temporary law (No. IX-1314) entered into force, providing restrictions of the purchase of agricultural land (including restriction of purchase of shares in the legal entity owning agricultural land). This law was changed from 1 January 2018 by Agricultural Land Acquisition law (No. XIII-801). These restrictions mean that the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland and its owned private companies will not be able to purchase agricultural land in Lithuania additionally and/or acquire shares in companies owning agricultural land.

Prohibition stated in the law can reduce the amount of buyers of agricultural land, owned by subsidiaries of the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland, and thus the liquidity and price of the asset.

The total investment risk

The value of the investment in agricultural land can vary in the short term, depending on the harvest, prices of agricultural products, local demand and supply fluctuations, competition between farmers and financial situation. Investment in agricultural land should be carried out in the medium and long term, so that investor can avoid the short-term price fluctuations. Investing in real estate is connected with the long-term risks. After failure of investments or under other ill-affected circumstances (having been unable to pay for the creditors) the bankruptcy proceedings may be initiated.

Agricultural production and other commodity price volatility risk

Agricultural products and other commodities prices are historically characterized by very large fluctuations, on which, in many cases, depends the price of agricultural land. The main factor affecting profitability of agricultural business is the price of the crop (wheat, canola, etc.), but fuel, labor, fertilizers' and other commodity prices also affect the cost of agricultural activity, therefore their increase lowers profit margins and reduces the ability to pay higher prices for agricultural land leases. If high fuel, fertilizer and labor costs coincide with the fall of agricultural output prices, farmers and investors in the agricultural sector may suffer a loss.

Common agricultural risk

The public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland will seek to lease its owned agricultural land to farmers and agricultural companies for the highest price possible. Factors that could adversely affect the agricultural sector may be: weather conditions (floods, droughts, heavy rains, hail, frost, weeds, pests, diseases, fire, climate change related worsening conditions and others). Any of these factors, together or separately, could have a negative impact on farmers' incomes and farmland values. Part of the risks, not all, can be insured, but the insurance costs reduce agricultural profitability, thus not all Lithuanian farmers do it.

Reliance on the European Union and national subsidies

Lithuanian and the European Union farmers' activities and profits are highly dependent on the European Union's Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) - EU and national subsidies for agricultural activities. Recent changes to the CAP are valid for the period 2014 – 2020.

Elimination of direct payments could have a negative impact on agricultural land rents and values.

Land illiquidity risk

Investments in agricultural land under certain market conditions are relatively illiquid, thus finding buyers for these lands can take time. Investors may consider the investment in agricultural land only if they do not have needs for the sudden liquidity.

Risk of legislative and regulatory changes

Lithuanian law, the European Union directives and other legislative changes may affect the income of farmers and agricultural land rents. For example, changes affecting agricultural products price controls, export restrictions, customs entry or withdrawal, more stringent environmental restrictions could adversely affect the profitability of agriculture.

Tax increase risk

Tax laws change may lead to a greater taxation of the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland and its group companies, which in turn may reduce the profits and assets of the company.

Inflation and deflation risk

It is likely that during its operational period the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland will face both inflation and deflation risks as investments in agricultural land are long term. If the profit from the agriculture land rent will be less than the inflation rate, it will result in loss of purchasing power. It is estimated that investment in agricultural land profitability is highly correlated with inflation.

Credit risk

The public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland will seek to lease agricultural land plots in the highest price possible to farmers in Lithuania and agricultural companies. There is a risk that tenants of the land will not fulfil their obligations - it would adversely affect the profit of the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland. Large parts of liabilities not fulfilled in time may cause disturbances in activities of the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland, there might be a need to seek additional sources of financing, which may not always be available.

The public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland also bears the risk of holding funds in bank accounts or investing in short-term financial instruments.

Liquidity risk

The public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland may be faced with a situation where it will not be able to settle with suppliers and other creditors in time. The company will seek to maintain adequate liquidity levels or secure funding in order to reduce this risk.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk mainly includes loans with a variable interest rate. The public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland plans to use very small amount of debt. Rising interest rates worldwide may adversely affect the values of property - agricultural land.

Large shareholders risk

Three shareholders of the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland together with related parties hold more than 60 percent of shares and their voting will influence the election of the Members of the Boards of company, essential decisions regarding management of the public joint-stock company INVL Baltic Farmland, operations and financial position. 22 Estimation of Issuer's and Group's activity last year and activity plans and forecasts

22.1. EVALUATION OF IMPLEMENTATION OF GOALS FOR 2019

The initial forecast of INVL Baltic Farmland for year 2019 was income of EUR 650 thousand and net profit of EUR 395 thousand.

INVL Baltic Farmland had revenue of EUR 645 thousand in 2019 and earned unaudited net profit of EUR 1,136 thousand for the year. Profit was forecasted under the assumption that the value of agricultural land holdings in the balance sheet would not change and the change in the value of trade receivables by the buyers was not assessed, but a valuation conducted by the company Matininkai showed that land holding value had increased by 6.2% to EUR 14.72 million compared to previous year, or EUR 4.74 thousand per hectare. In addition, EUR 46 thousand impairment of trade receivables was recognized and due to overdue debts at the end of the year the administration fee was reduced by EUR 95 thousand. Excluding these non-estimated factors and the related income tax expense, INVL Baltic Farmland's profit would be EUR 395 thousand. Therefore it can be stated that INVL Baltic Farmland has accomplished the calculated profit forecasts for 2019.

22.2. ACTIVITY PLANS AND FORECASTS

INVL Baltic Farmland will continue focusing on enhancing the quality of owned land and environmental sustainability.

Taking into consideration the lease agreements, total income should be around EUR 652 thousand in 2020. Net profit for the year is expected to be around EUR 390 thousand. These predictions are based on the assumption that there will be no changes in land value in 2020, no land sale/acquisition transactions will be made and not predicting the changes in provision for impairment of trade receivables and the influence of trade receivables on the amount of the administration fee.

INVL Baltic Farmland's dividend policy stipulates that dividend payments to shareholders should be no less than EUR 0.10 per share, in case net profit of the reporting period is larger than previously described share of the profit attributable for dividends, the Board of the Company taking into consideration a need for investments and working capital as well as market conditions, projected cash flows and other in the opinion of the Board significant conditions can propose to the General Shareholders Meeting to pay as dividends higher share of the profit than described earlier.

functions, establishes committees. It is recommended that the collegial body should form the nomination, remuneration and audit committees ⁹ .		of employees, the Nomination and Remuneration Committees are not formed. Audit Committee members are elected by the General Shareholders Meeting.

In such case the provisions of this Code pertaining to the committees (particularly those related to their role, operation and transparency) should apply, where relevant, to the collegial body as a whole.
5.1.4. Committees established by the collegial body should normally be composed of at least three members. Subject to the requirements of the legal acts, committees could be comprised only of two members as well. Members of each committee should be selected on the basis of their competences by giving priority to independent members of the collegial body. The chair of the management board should not serve as the chair of committees.
5.1.5. The authority of each committee formed should be determined by the collegial body itself. Committees should perform their duties according to the authority delegated to them and regularly inform the collegial body about their activities and performance on a regular basis. The authority of each committee defining its role and specifying its rights and duties should be made public at least once a year (as part of the information disclosed by the company on its governance structure and practice on an annual basis). In compliance with the legal acts regulating the processing of personal data, companies should also include in their annual reports the statements of the existing committees on their composition, the number of meetings and attendance over the year as well as the main directions of their activities and performance.
5.1.6. A committee may invite or request that certain employees of the company or experts would participate in the meeting. Chair of each committee should have the possibility to maintain direct communication with the shareholders. Cases where such practice is to be applied should be specified in the rules regulating the activities of the committee.
5.2. Nomination committee

⁹ The legal acts may provide for the obligation to form a respective committee. For example, the Law on the Audit of Financial Statements of the Republic of Lithuania provides that public-interest entities (including but not limited to public limited liability companies whose securities are traded on a regulated market of the Republic of Lithuania and/or of any other Member State) are under the obligation to set up an audit committee (the legal acts provide for the exemptions where the functions of the audit committee may be carried out by the collegial body performing the supervisory functions).

5.2.1. - Dividend yield – the set value of dividends paid per share for the last financial year divided by the price per share at the end of a financial period.

$$\text{Dividend yield} = \frac{\text{The set value of dividends paid per share for the last financial year}}{\text{The price per share at the end of a financial period}}$$

This is a particularly important valuation measure for investors seeking regular income. The higher the yield, the higher the payout for the shareholder compared to the price of the share.

- Book value per share – the Group's equity divided by the number of shares, excluding the Group's own shares, at the end of a financial period.

$$\text{Book value per share} = \frac{\text{The Group's equity}}{\text{The number of shares, excluding the Group's own shares, at the end of a financial period}}$$

The book value per common share indicates the euro value remaining for common shareholders after all assets are liquidated and all debtors are paid.

- Price to Book ratio – the ratio of the share price at the end of a financial period to the book value per share.

$$\text{Price to Book ratio} = \frac{\text{The share price at the end of a financial period}}{\text{The book value per share}}$$

Price-to-book ratio compares a firm's market to book value by dividing price per share by book value per share. This shows how the valuation is covered by equity.

- Dividends/Net profit – Ratio between the dividends allocated at the ongoing year for the year before and ongoing year net profit of the Company.

$$\text{Dividends/Net profit} = \frac{\text{Ratio between the dividends allocated at the ongoing year for the year before}}{\text{Ongoing year net profit of the Company}}$$

The dividend payout ratio is the ratio of the total amount of dividends paid out to shareholders relative to the net income of the company. It is the percentage of earnings paid to shareholders in dividends.

- Return on Equity (ROE) – the ratio of net income to average equity for a financial period, measured in percentage terms.

$$\text{Return on Equity (ROE) (measured in percentage terms)} = \frac{\text{Net income}}{\text{Average equity for a financial period}}$$

Return on equity excludes debt in the denominator and compares net profit for the period with total average shareholders' equity. It measures the rate of return on shareholders' investment and is, therefore, useful in comparing the profitability of the Group with its competitors.

- Average equity is an arithmetical average of the beginning equity and ending equity for the financial period.

Average equity = (The beginning equity for the financial period + The ending equity for the financial period) / 2

- Return on Assets (ROA) – the ratio of net income to average total assets for a financial period, measured in percentage terms.

$$\text{Return on Assets (ROA) (measured in percentage terms)} = \frac{\text{Net income}}{\text{Average total assets for a financial period}}$$

Return on assets (ROA) is an indicator of how profitable a company is relative to its total assets. ROA gives a manager, investor, or analyst an idea as to how efficient a company's management is at using its assets to generate earnings.

- Average total equity is an arithmetical average of the beginning total assets and ending total assets for the financial period.

Average total equity = (The beginning total assets for the financial period + The ending total assets for the financial period) / 2

- Liquidity ratio – the ratio of current assets to current liabilities.

$$\text{Liquidity ratio} = \frac{\text{Current assets}}{\text{Current liabilities}}$$

Liquidity ratio is a financial metric used to determine a debtor's ability to pay off current debt obligations without raising external capital.

- Operating profit margin – the ratio of operating profit to sales, measured in percentage terms.

$$\text{Operating profit margin (measured in percentage terms)} = \frac{\text{Operating profit}}{\text{Sales}}$$

Operating margin measures how much profit a company makes on a euro of sales, after paying for variable costs of production such as wages and raw materials, but before paying interest or tax. It is calculated by dividing a company's operating profit by its net sales.

- Pretax profit margin – the ratio of pretax profit to sales, measured in percentage terms.

$$\text{Pretax profit margin (measured in percentage terms)} = \frac{\text{Pretax profit}}{\text{Sales}}$$

The pretax profit margin is the ratio of a company's pre-tax earnings to its total sales. The higher the pretax profit margin, the more profitable the company.

- Operating profit excluding revaluation of investment property margin – the ratio of operating profit excluding net gain from fair value adjustments on investment property to sales, measured in percentage terms.

Operating profit excluding revaluation of investment property margin (measured in percentage terms) = (Operating profit - The net gain from fair value adjustments on investment property) / Sales

Operating profit excluding revaluation of investment property margin measures how much profit a company makes on a euro of sales, after paying for variable costs of production such as wages and raw materials, but before paying interest or tax and excluding effects of investment property revaluation. It is calculated by dividing a company's operating profit by its net sales.

- Price earnings ratio (P/E) – the share price at the end of a financial period divided by earnings per share (EPS).

$$\text{Price earnings ratio (P/E)} = \frac{\text{The share price at the end of a financial period}}{\text{Earnings per share (EPS)}}$$

To determine the P/E value, one simply must divide the current stock price by the earnings per share (EPS). It is used to compare a company against its own historical record or to compare aggregate markets against one another or over time.

- Net profitability – net profit divided by sales, expressed in percentage terms.

$$\text{Net profitability (expressed in percentage terms)} = \frac{\text{Net profit}}{\text{Sales}}$$

The net profitability is equal to how much net income or profit is generated as a percentage of revenue. It illustrates how much of each euro in revenue collected by a company translates into profit.

- EBITDA (earnings before interest tax depreciation and amortization) profitability – operating profit excluding net profit from a revaluation of investment assets with depreciation and amortization added back divided by sales, expressed in percentage terms.

$$\text{EBITDA (earnings before interest tax depreciation and amortization) profitability (expressed in percentage terms)} = (\text{Operating profit} - \text{Net profit from a revaluation of investment assets} + \text{Depreciation and amortization}) / \text{Sales}$$

Earnings before interest tax depreciation and amortization as a percentage of revenue. EBITDA margin can provide an investor, business owner or financial professional with a clear view of a company's operating profitability and cash flow.

- Capitalization - the market value of a company's equity.

Capitalization defines the market value of a company which depends on the price and volume of the company's stock at a given time. Capitalization shows the net worth of a company at a given time by market participants.
