B.13 A description of any recent events particular to the issuer which are to a material extent relevant to the evaluation of the issuer's solvency

Not applicable. There have not been any recent material events that would be relevant for assessing solvency of the Issuer and the Group.

B.15 A description of the issuer's principal activities

The Group divides its operations into three main operating segments – generation and supply, distribution system services and management of transmission system assets.

The generation and supply operating segment comprises the Group's electricity and heat generation operations, which are organised into the legal entities: the Issuer and SIA Liepājas enerģija, as well as wholesale and retail electricity sales operations which are conducted Pan-Baltic by the Issuer and the Issuer's subsidiaries Elektrum Eesti OÜ and Elektrum Lietuva UAB.

The operations of the distribution system services operating segment relates to the provision of electricity distribution services in Latvia and is managed by the Issuer's subsidiary AS Sadales tīkls, the largest distribution system operator in Latvia, and the Issuer - the owner of the distribution system real estate assets. In 2011 distribution assets (excluding the real estate) owned by the Issuer were invested in the equity of AS Sadales tīkls for the purpose of establishing the distribution system operator as required by the market liberalisation.

The management of transmission system assets operating segment comprises construction and maintenance of the transmission system assets (330 kV and 110 kV transmission lines, substations and distribution points) as well as the lease of assets to the transmission system operator AS Augstsprieguma tīkls. The Republic of Latvia has applied the second unbundling model under EU Directive 2009/72/EC, which provides that the electricity transmission system assets shall remain with a vertically integrated utility, while the activities of the transmission system operator are independently managed. The results of the management of transmission system assets segment derives from activities both of the Issuer's subsidiary AS Latvijas elektriskie tīkli, in which transmission system assets (excluding the real estate) were invested by the Issuer in 2011, and the Issuer - the owner of the transmission system real estate assets.

B.17 Credit ratings assigned to the issuer or its debt securities at the request or with co-operation of the issuer in rating process

The Issuer is rated Baa3 with a stable outlook by Moody's Investors Service. The rating and outlook was reaffirmed on 19 March 2013.

The Series of Notes issued under the Programme may also be rated or unrated. Such ratings will not necessarily be the same as the rating assigned to the Issuer. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

Section D - Risks

D.2 Key information on the key risks that are specific to the issuer

Risks Related to Macroeconomic Conditions

- The ongoing market liberalization in Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, further Group's expansion into neighbouring energy markets creates growing exposures of the Group's business and financial results to macroeconomic developments. Thus local, as well as global macroeconomic trends may have a material adverse effect on the Group's business and financial position.
- Severe and long-term downturn in the economy would have an impact on the Group's customers and may have a negative impact on the Group's growth and results of operations through reduced electricity consumption, as well as limited funding availabilities.

Risks Related to Business Operations

- The sole shareholder of the Issuer is the Republic of Latvia. Thus, certain and substantial shareholder's decisions alternating the Group's strategic orientation or decisions in respect of dividend policy, capital structure and other material issues could have a material adverse effect on the Group.

- The Group's revenues in regulated electricity and heat markets are highly dependable on tariffs approved by the regulator, as well as on applicable legislative norms for the methodology thereof. There are risks that not all costs will be covered by such approved tariffs, as well as that changes in local or EU legislative environment governing relevant regulatory matters may have an adverse effect on the Group.
- The delay or suspension of the currently ongoing electricity market liberalization in Latvia may have material adverse effect on the Group. Besides, the market opening is expected to create more competitive environment and the new market entrants, which may reduce the Group's market share, as well as may affect the pricing policy and the Group's business and financial position.
- The Group's expansion in the markets of other Baltic States may be affected by delays in market liberalization processes, as well as the Group may not be able to obtain the expected market share there.
- The Group's electricity generation portfolio does not meet the needs of the electricity supply portfolio, thus throughout the year approximately two-thirds of the Group's electricity supply to retail sector is subject to price volatility risks in the electricity wholesale market. There is a risk that availability of hedging instruments is limited due to low liquidity in the market or hedging does not provide the required efficiency.
- The Group's core business operations are partially influenced by weather conditions. In addition, the heat demand is influenced by the competitive position in heat supply market. Due to this, the Group's overall financial position may be influenced by seasonality, weather fluctuations, as well as long-term shifts in climate.
- The Issuer's participation (which at this date is uncommitted) in Visaginas nuclear power plant project may expose the Issuer to certain risks in relation to the operation and decommissioning of nuclear facilities, the manipulation, treatment, disposal and storage of radioactive materials and the potential harmful effects on human health of such materials. Besides, the project would be capital intensive and may require significant investments and/or guarantees from the Group.
- Due to the fact that the electricity transmission system assets in Latvia are owned by the Group, but operated by a third party AS Augstsprieguma tīkls, there is a risk that the transmission system operator incorporates in the long-term plan less investment in the existing assets than would be required to maintain the assets, thus reducing their value and causing loss to the Group. In addition, since part of the investments is co-financed by the EU funds, in case of objections from the EU the Group may need to increase its financing share in the existing transmission system asset construction projects, which accordingly would reduce the available funds for other projects or could result in increased debt levels.
- In addition to aforementioned risks, the Group's business and financial position may be negatively affected by a counterparty risk, political and regulatory risk, asset damage risk, litigation and dispute risk, resource risk, execution of investment projects risk, distribution system investment risk, sovereign debt crisis risk, environmental damage, health and safety risk.

Financial Risks

- The Group is exposed to currency risk, as all Group's outstanding loans are denominated in euro currency, and the significant part of the expenses is in euro, but the main part of the Group's incomes is in lats. Although, lat is pegged to euro, any unfavourable fluctuations in lats/euro exchange rate or exchange rate policies in the future may have material adverse impact on the Group's operations, prospects and financial results.
- The violation of the financial covenants or certain other obligations and representations under the loan agreements, may lead to an event of default and acceleration of the loans. Due to the cross default clauses in loan agreements, the Issuer may need to refinance substantial part of its outstanding debt.
- A downgrade of the Issuer's credit rating may increase its costs of funding and/or reduce its access to funding and may require the Issuer to provide additional security for contracts which may increase the costs of transactions. Any adverse change in an applicable credit rating could also adversely affect the trading price of the Notes.
- In addition to aforementioned risks, the Group's business and financial position may be negatively affected by the interest rate risk and liquidity risk.
- The Notes may not be a suitable investment for all investors. Thus, each potential investor in the Notes must assess the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances, including the effects on the value of such Notes and the impact this investment will have on its overall investment portfolio.
- The investors may forfeit the interest and principle amount invested, in case the Issuer becomes insolvent.
- The Notes will be unsecured obligations of the Issuer, without any additional guarantees and securities; in case of the Issuer's insolvency the Noteholders will become unsecured creditors.
- Due to the fact that in accordance with the Latvian laws certain key-assets of the Issuer can only be owned by the Issuer or its wholly-owned subsidiaries, claims will not be enforceable against such assets.
- Any adverse change in the financial condition or prospects of the Issuer may have a material adverse effect on the liquidity of the Notes, and may result in a material decline in their market price, and thus may affect prompt and full payment to the Noteholders.
- The Notes constitute a new issue of securities by the Issuer, thus it is possible that an active market for the Notes may not develop or may not be maintained, as well as it may be affected by the changes in market and economic conditions, financial conditions and prospects of the Issuer, which accordingly may have an impact on the liquidity and market price of the Notes.
- The Notes will bear interest at a fixed interest rate, which accordingly exposes a risk that a price of such security may be affected by the changes in the market interest rate. Also inflation may result in a decline of the market price of the Notes, as it decreases the purchasing power of a currency unit and respectively the received interest.
- The payments on the Notes will be made in LVL or EUR (depending on the currency of the respective Notes), accordingly the fluctuations in exchange rates and interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Notes, if the investor's financial activities are denominated principally in another currency unit. The government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect the applicable exchange rate. In addition, investment in the Notes involves the risk that subsequent changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Notes.

D.3 Key information on the key risks that are specific to the securities

- In case the Notes are rated by independent credit rating agencies, such ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to the Notes, as well as it may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.
- The Notes are governed by the laws of the Republic of Latvia, as in force from time to time, which may change during the validity of the Notes, thus no assurance can be given as to the impact of any such possible change of laws or regulations. Hence, such changes may have a material adverse effect on the Issuer, as well as the Notes.
- The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or reviews or regulations by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent the Notes are legal investment for the investor, use of the Notes as a collateral, as well as if there are no other restrictions applicable for the purchase or pledge of the Notes.
- The Notes do not contain covenants governing the Issuer's operations and do not limit its ability to merge, to sell the assets or otherwise effect significant transactions that may have a material adverse effect on the Notes and the Noteholders. Thus, in the event that the Issuer enters into such a transaction, Noteholders could be materially adversely affected. Furthermore, subject to the relevant amendments to the law, the current shareholder of the Issuer may dispose any or all of its shareholding.
- Only the shareholder of the Issuer has voting rights in the shareholders meetings of the Issuer. The Notes carry no such voting rights. Consequently, the Noteholders cannot influence any decisions by the Issuer's shareholders concerning, for instance, the capital structure of the Issuer.
- The decisions of the Noteholders Meeting (including amendments to the General Terms and Conditions of the Notes) will be binding to all Noteholders, including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.
- The Issuer is not prohibited from issuing further debt. This, accordingly, may increase the number of claims that would be entitled to share rateably with the Noteholders in any proceeds distributed in connection with an insolvency of the Issuer. Further, any provision which confers, purports to confer, or waives a right to create security interest in favour of third parties, such as a negative pledge, is ineffective against third parties, thus such security interest in favour of a third party, even if created in breach of the Issuer's obligations and undertakings herein, would be a valid and enforceable security interest over the pledged asset.
